

TELMATE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Telmate’s educational features give inmates a new opportunity to learn.

Telmate’s customizable platform offers inmates direct access to interactive educational content on our secure and portable corrections-grade Telmate Tablets. Telmate’s incentive-based interactive learning platform allows inmates to:

Select Goal Based Curricula

Whether it is learning to read, studying for the GED, or taking specialized academic or job training courses, Telmate’s platform offers a wide variety of interactive content for inmate education and allows inmates to select the best match to meet their needs.

Watch Video-Based Instructional Content

Video-based learning can be an extremely effective teaching tool for inmates, especially when teaching reading skills and concepts such as mathematics. Telmate’s learning platform both shows and tracks progress through every video in the Telmate library.

Take Interactive Quizzes & Surveys

Our online form builder allows instructors and facility staff to create surveys, short quizzes to gauge inmate progress, or even full-length tests. These questionnaires are capable of both reinforcing and rewarding inmate progress.

Interact with Instructors

With Telmate, inmate students may be assigned to instructors, who have access to track student progress. Instructors are able to interact with inmates via video chat, text messaging and email exchange, allowing for both encouragement and assistance.

Correctional facilities desperately need a continuing education solution that inmates will actually use. Telmate now brings GED preparation material and much more.

GED Education

Studies have shown that achieving a GED in prison leads to 14% reduction in recidivism among those under the age of 21 and a 5% reduction in those who are older. Telmate's GED preparation content is a simple GED preparation solution for inmates using both video content and interactive exercises.

Additional Web Based Resources

In addition to Telmate's own packaged educational content, any approved web-based educational content may be made available to inmates. Web-based educational content currently available through Telmate includes:

Comprehensive Administration

Instructors view and respond to inmate submissions as well as review inmate progress through the Telmate Command Center, the same single unified administration system as other Telmate features. Instructors can even send an encouraging note, or answer inmate questions through an intuitive Web browser-based application. If outside organizations conduct these functions for your facility, Telmate's easy-to-use user management system makes creating limited-access accounts easy.
